It is wonderful that in our university, students can be recruited for job opportunities related their fields. I am one of those students. I tried sending my CV many times, but I didn't get any answers to my application, and the work that was offered wasn't suitable for me. I began to follow Career Center Job Announcements and decided to send my resume to possible vacancies. Some other students and I applied for Parabank job opportunities. I passed the interview stage and examination successfully. As a result, I am currently performing an internship in the Accounting Department at Parabank. Try to believe in yourself!

According to Smithsonian magazine, "behind every success story is an embarrassing first effort, a stumble, a setback or a radical change of direction.... When usually I see someone who's very successful, I almost imagine that it was a foregone conclusion, that they're a genius, and that they were destined for great things." I also usually said that I could never take their place. I'm still a first-year student. But I like working very much. And that's why I started to look for vacancies... I looked at every vacancy which I found and was suitable for me. I chose some of them and sent my CV. But none of them got back to me. I lost my hope and thought, "what should I do?" Then I decided to improve my skills. I started to learn more than before, I changed my aims and I started to think positive things. After that, I understood that "few successful people were child prodigies, and prodigies don't necessarily find success" (Smithsonian). I started to look for jobs again, but now I knew what I wanted. After one month they responded to me. Now I have a good job; I have opportunities for improving my skills and for a good future. I'm thankful to our career center for that. Of course without them I couldn't have done that. They help me a lot. Thanks for everything. And now if you want be useful for the future and want to form a great career, just believe and be active.
